FEBRUARY - THE SHORTEST MONTH OF THE YEAR

When I was in elementary school I had a joke book with illustrations, and the one I remember clearly had a drawing of a small alarm clock being thrown out of a second-story window with the caption, "Why did the boy throw the clock out the window? He wanted to see time fly." It is not a great joke, but I am often reminded of it when I reflect on how time does tend to fly past so quickly.

This month I will be attending an overnight retreat with some clergy colleagues who have become friends through a program called "Companions in Ministry". The group was formed two years ago to encourage mutual support and dialogue across ecumenical boundaries and has been very helpful to me as I began my ministry with all of you here in Port. Unfortunately, this retreat, scheduled long ago at the start, marks the end of the program.

How quickly two years has passed! Two years ago I was just in my second month of being your pastor. The pandemic was still lasting so much longer than was imagined possible, we were still only offering virtual worship. Time has moved so quickly in those two years, yet doesn't that episode of our time together seem so long ago?

We have started planning ways to celebrate our church's 125th Anniversary this year. 125 years is a long time-- how the world has changed since the Dennett families felt the spiritual calling to create a Christian community that could be more open to people and ideas. Yet, as our doors were opening in 1898, the church in which I grew up in Connecticut would have been celebrating its 180th Anniversary. In 2017 I was fortunate to go to Germany for the 500th Anniversary of the Protestant Reformation. And some of the churches we visited had been in existence for 300 years before the wave of reformation came to their city in 1517.

How time does fly. Make the most of the time we have this month, (continued on next page) the shortest month of the year. There is so much happening around the congregation and so much for which we can be grateful. Worship, fellowship, church school, adult study, anniversaries marking our past, plans for our future, and so much more. Come and see! Peace, Pastor Scott

JOIN US FOR OUR 125th ANNIVERSARY PLANNING

Our 125th Anniversary Planning Team will meet next on Sunday, February 5. Please join us in the library after the 10:00 service. We brainstormed a long list of possibilities at our January meeting. It's not too late to add your thoughts and/or participation to our efforts as we decide on events/themes for the year April 2023 - April 2024. Any questions? Please contact Jane Spalding, jvrspalding@gmail.com or Pastor Scott.
